WENDY'S PROVEN RECORD OF WINNING FOR HANCOCK COUNTY

Wendy's family representing 4 generations in Hancock County.

"As a Bay St. Louis City Councilwoman for 8 years, I supported small businesses and was committed to the development of the municipal harbor.

A few months after Katrina, I worked for Katrina Recovery for one year where I helped connect people with much-needed resources to rebuild their lives and started Habitat for Humanity Bay-Waveland where I worked for ten years.

After the BP oil spill, I met with lawmakers of both parties in Washington D.C. that were going to make decisions regarding the BP Oil Spill Funding."

"I've always fought for the needs of Hancock County, and will continue to do so as your State Representative!"

RIPPLE IN THE BAY

The Rotary Club of Bay St. Louis on Friday served more than a thousand meals during its annual "Ripple in the Bay." This year's feast -- billed as "One great meal flowing to three great causes" -- was prepared and donated by the Silver Slipper. Proceeds from the event will benefit the Hancock County Sheriff's Office K9 Unit, CASA of Hancock County and King's Kitchen. We had a very successful 'Ripple,' event organizer Lisette Ecuyer said. "Hancock Senior Center came over to dine in. We delivered over 200 meals to first responders, city hall, and a children's advocacy group up in the Kiln, as well the Diamondhead Police Department. There were many deliveries up and down Hwy. 90 to businesses and Kings Kitchen. There were lots of volunteers and a special thank you to the Silver Slipper for a very generous donation."

according to studies. "The disease of dementia does not rush in with a marching band and balloons. Rather, it comes in as (poet Carl) Sandburg would say, 'on little cat feet.' Oh, there are sideways glimpses as the disease begins to bubble up from time to time, glimpses that a person can blame on the aging process or dismiss as 'senior moments' until the truth crashes in with absolute clarity and you can't deny it anymore," she said. It was a speech -- out of context and inappropriate -- that Henry gave at a reunion for the Loyola pharmacy's Class of 1957 that spurred Bobbye to attend Henry's next physical exam and demand tests to be run. A month after a battery of exams, Bobbye's suspicions were confirmed. "I dreaded the diagnosis so much that my mind immediately, involuntarily, wondered what other terminal diagnosis might be better. Dementia is a long, steady march of decline and suffering for the patient and his or her loved ones. It is a cross no one would choose, but we, of course, do not get to choose -- God is in charge." Bobbye is a convert to Catholicism, a decision she made at the age of 15 growing up in Jackson. She smiles as she tells of her spiritual growth over her 58-year marriage to Henry. "That was just a beautiful season in my life of Henry and I working together with Bible studies and men's groups and church groups and youth retreats and speaking at Catholic Youth Organization conventions. Henry did tremendous work with his faith and his practice and God just used us and that was a beautiful season, and then the decade of the disaster started in my life." "The day I was in my little house and I had to put bicycle chains on my door with padlocks from the inside because Henry ran away, I was having a little pity party saying, 'Oh, here

I am in my 70s, just distraught, and I'm trapped in this little house with a husband that cannot make a sentence.' " "Then the Lord spoke to me and said, 'I want you to look around and I want you to begin to see this little enclosed space that I put you in as an enclosed garden where I can speak to your heart and where you can learn things about yourself I need to reveal to you, and you can learn more about me that you need to know. I want you to not complain, not to have your little pity parties because everybody else is getting to go and do and be.' " Bobbye said she realizes that the main lesson of that is that trial comes to everybody. "Pain comes to everybody but He's taught me, you're not alone. You cannot be abandoned. So, I'm beginning to walk in a different light as far as Henry being gone now and I have time and I'm beginning to get back into things I think He wants me to do. "I do try to do things in the community but by and large my push, my passion is trying to say to somebody, 'I'm on the way to the Father's house. Come and go with me.' " Nearly a decade of endurance is behind Bobbye now and the hope is the sorrowful memories will fade and the memories of the man who accomplished so much in his life will remain strong and treasured. Bobbye relates tenderly and with pride, "When he passed last year I can't tell you how many people came out of the woodwork to say, 'You don't know me but I just want you to know your husband saved my life.' " This month's Gem is a picture of the deep love, commitment and persistence the disease exposes in those who -- like Bobbye -- endure the season but are never alone. This year's election will include Hancock County and statewide races. Many of the county contests have already been effectively settled, since there are no Democratic or third-party candidates in those races. Unopposed candidates in this year's general election -- all Republicans -- include Hancock County Chancery Clerk Tim Kellar; Circuit Clerk nominee Kendra "KK" Ladner Necaise; Sheriff Ricky Adam; Tax Collector/Assessor Jimmie Ladner; District 3 Supervisor nominee Kodie Koenenn; District 5

Supervisor Darrin "Bo" Ladner; Justice Court Judge 1 Desmond W. Hoda; Constable Place 1 Terry L. Necaise; Constable Place 2 Ray Seal, Jr.; and Bay-Waveland municipal School District Trustee Mike Bell. However, several other positions have yet to be settled. Incumbent District 1 Supervisor David Yarborough, an Independent, will face Republican challenger Theresa Ryan and Democratic candidate Jefferson "Buster" Verdin IV. Incumbent District 2 Supervisor Greg Shaw, a Republican, will face independent candidate Henry Ward in the November General Election.

Incumbent District 4 Supervisor Scotty Adam, who ran unopposed in the Republican primary, will face Democratic candidate Thaddeus Collier in November. In the Justice Court Place 2 race, Republican nominee Brian S. Necaise will face Independent candidate Teresa Ehrlich in the November general election. In the Justice Court Judge Place 3, Republican nominee Eric C. Moran will square off against Libertarian candidate Lynn Smith. For Constable Place 3, Republican nominee Paul Taylor will compete against Democratic candidate Steven L. Saucier and Independent candidate Guy "Tater" Graham in November.

There's also a race for the Mississippi House of Representatives, House District 122 Rep. David Baria's seat. Baria did not run for reelection. Former Bay St. Louis City Councilwoman Wendy McDonald, a Democrat, will square off against Waveland Building and Public Works Director Brent Anderson, Republican, in that race. The ballot will also include all state offices, including races for governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general and more. For a complete listing of candidates, see page 6A of today's edition of the Sea Coast Echo. For more information, contact Hancock County Circuit Clerk Karen Ruhr's office at 228-467-5265.

"I went and scouted locations and took some pictures and we knocked out the whole thing. We used the parking garage, Beach Boulevard, Old Town in General, and of course Cuz's." Cuz's Old Town Oyster Bar and Grill "served almost as the home base for the whole operation," Singleton said. "I actually just reached out on Facebook because we needed a restaurant scene, and Mr. Melvin (Cuz's owner Melvin "Cuz" Barnes) responded, and he was so nice. ... It was great, the logistics were just perfect. After we filmed the restaurant scene, we used their private dining room as a police interrogation room. It was a major, major help. "And then of course, Choppa likes New Orleans-style food, so Cuz's was like the perfect place." "Everybody knows who Choppa is," Barnes said between takes on Wednesday. "We're just happy to be a part of it." "It was a great honor and a really big deal," Barnes' wife and restaurant co-owner Christy said. "It was a really great experience. And Choppa was the nicest guy, and so patient. After the filming, he posed for photographs with all our customers. "And Chaz Singleton, the director, is just the greatest. "He's a real professional." Singleton, born and raised in Bay St. Louis, said he has "a passion for video production." Through his brand, Astro Clown Productions, he has produced more than 400 music videos and short films, garnering more than 1.4 million views on YouTube. Singleton said the "Secrets" video will be released "soon."

Pirates, privateers and patriots

The Louisiana Purchase in 1803 heralded the end of European Colonization of the Mississippi and Louisiana Gulf Coast.

Meanwhile during this transitional period, there was a state of lawlessness in the surrounding hinterland of New Orleans and the Pearl River region.

As a result, pirates like Jean Lafitte in Louisiana and Pierre Remaux in Hancock County terrorized with impunity merchant vessels sailing the high seas along the Spanish Main.

In that era nations at war authorized their merchant fleets to arm and hunt with the intent to capture enemy merchant ships and confiscate their cargo.

These pirates in Hancock County and Louisiana smuggled cargo (booty), captured African slaves aboard ship, and transported these ill-gotten gains into the Mississippi River Valley.

In Waveland the famous Pirate House served as a transfer depot for slave trafficking.

Piracy is defined as the unlawful confiscation, by force if necessary, of one privately owned vessel by another party. Moreover, piracy had existed in the Gulf of Mexico and Caribbean Sea for over two centuries before 1800 and had been present world-wide since prehistoric times.

At the turn of the nineteenth century it was customary for governments at war to issue "letters of marque and reprisal" which authorized qualified armed merchants to raid an enemy merchant fleet. Such owners and operators of these vessels were designated privateers or legal pirates.

As an illustration, during the Revolutionary War American merchants/privateers captured many British schooners laden with arms and provisions intended to supply the British army in Boston and later New York City and elsewhere.

In this era the Napoleonic Wars involved the nations of Britain, France, and Spain.

The institution of letters of marque aka privateering was thoroughly corrupted because unauthorized pirates in the Gulf of Mexico acquired or forged such documents from several countries concomitantly to justify confiscation of any vessel sailing on the high seas laden with slaves and/or cargo.

Pirates would smuggle these illegal items into the mar-

Productive Health-Care Reforms

The latest Democratic proposal for a government takeover of health care just got more expensive. Previous estimates had put the cost of Medicare for All at $32 trillion over ten years. But a recent study by the left-leaning Urban Institute pegs the tab at $34 trillion.

An additional $2 trillion is no small sum. That money represents half the current federal budget, three times what our country spends on our military, and more than the value of all of the goods and services produced in Canada every year. The revised $34 trillion total is another reminder of how unsustainable Medicare for All would be.

The bill's sponsor, Senator Bernie Sanders, has openly acknowledged that only massive middle-class tax increases could pay for what it would require. Costs are not the only concern. The policy would take away Americans' health-care choices, increase wait times, and limit the potential for future medical innovations.

The Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act – also known as Obamacare – has already shown what can happen when the government's role in health care grows. Prices skyrocketed and people could not keep the plans or doctors they liked. Americans are right to wonder why it would be wise to double down on the mistakes of the past.

INSURANCE PROVIDED AT WORK WOULD END

Proponents of Medicare for All should stop repeating outlandish promises. They should come to the table and engage productively. That is the only way to find a solution that would give more Americans the care they want at the time they need it from the doctors they trust.

Proposals should not throw out what works about America's health-care system, including what works about Medicare. More than 600,000 Mississippians over the age of 65 rely on Medicare. Medicare for All would immediately take away options like Medicare Advantage, and it would eventually empty the U.S. Treasury. With no money left to spend, Medicare for All would become Medicare for none.

Medicare for All would also make most of the existing private insurance market illegal, taking away coverage from more than 180 million people. A new poll from the Kaiser Family Foundation found that 76 percent of participants like the coverage they get on the job. That type of insurance would end if Medicare for All became the law of the land.

THE WAY FORWARD

Americans deserve a say in their health-care choices, which are some of the most personal decisions that anyone can make. Given the proper tools and regulatory framework, our citizens are more than capable of picking the best plans to fit their needs.

President Donald Trump has made empowering consumers, lowering costs, and keeping protections for people with pre-existing conditions top priorities. His administration has given small businesses the option to join together in associations to negotiate lower prices. It has also granted waivers from some of the Affordable Care Act's burdensome mandates on insurance exchanges so that states can customize coverage options for their residents' health needs.

Congress is taking action as well. The

Antlers, Not Horns

In many deer camps throughout Mississippi, it is not uncommon to hear someone refer to a white-tailed buck's headgear as "horns." In reality, those "horns" are actually antlers.

Horns are made of a bony core covered by layers of keratin. They are slow growing and permanent and are usually grown by both sexes. Horns grow in yearly rings which may be an age indicator.

Antlers, on the other hand, are made of fast growing bone and are shed every year (except in rare cases).

Antlers are usually grown by males and are branched instead of singular like a cow horn.

White-tailed bucks in Mississippi grow their first set of antlers during the first 1.5 years of their life and generally that first set of antlers are spikes. Young deer are growing rapidly during this time and most of their nutrition-are covered in a soft skin, which is called "velvet." The velvet is made up of blood vessels which supply calcium, phosphorus, and protein to the growing antlers. By October, they are usually completely formed and are no longer growing. When this occurs, the blood vessels begin to dry up, and the velvet begins to detach.

Bucks speed up this process by rubbing their antlers on trees. This rubbing process also helps to polish antlers and strengthen the buck's neck muscles for the rut.

A white-tailed buck's antlers generally increase in size with each year of his life, dependant on availability of food and nutritional intake. After about 4.5 years, a buck's body will stop growing and almost all nutritional resources will go into antler development. If a white-tailed buck is allowed to mature to this age, this is when he can really grow an impressive

"rack." Bucks in the wild will generally peak out around their 5.5 or 6.5 year and from then on antler growth usually diminishes.

Around late February, a buck will shed his antlers due to a change in hormone levels following the end of the rut. But these sheds do not go to waste, they provide a rich source of nutrients (calcium and phosphorous) to small mammals such as squirrels, chipmunks, and other rodents.

Learning more about Mississippi's fish, wildlife, and plant resources will enable us to be better stewards of these precious resources. Spread the word.

James L. Cummins is executive director of Wildlife Mississippi, a non-profit, conservation organization founded to conserve, restore, and enhance fish, wildlife, and plant resources throughout Mississippi. Their website is www.wildlifemiss.org.

kets of the Mississippi River Valley for huge profit. A smuggler is defined as a trader who deals and transports unlawful cargo into a country or territory such as textiles, slaves, arms, linen, cloth, spices, precious wools, wines, pharmaceuticals, and machinery.

To be clear, all pirates were smugglers, but not all smugglers were pirates. For example, John Hancock who inherited his uncle’s import business, was arrested on one occasion by the British authorities before the Revolutionary War.

His sloop, Liberty, smuggled wine into the port of Boston. He is considered by most historians as a “patriotic smuggler.”

In like manner George Washington did not possess a navy, but he was able to wage war on British shipping by distributing many letters of marque and reprisal. This legitimized multiple armed merchant schooners to capture British ships, effectively marshaling pirates behind an American flag who became beloved patriots.

Privateers were also known as corsairs. Privateers were considered patriotic men with legal enterprises that actually were funded publicly, often by syndicates of investors.

According to the international rules of engagement, privateers were expected to treat politely any passengers and crew captured. The ship and the booty were supposed to be returned to the home port for confirmation and, most important, payment of duties.

Nevertheless, in practice, privateers in the Gulf of Mexico were smugglers/ pirates who did not follow the established rules.

While Britain and France were at war, President Thomas Jefferson imposed an embargo in 1807 on all ocean-going commerce to avoid the risk of getting into war with Britain.

Consequently this created an enormous business in smuggling in all parts of the United States and its territories.

The country needed to export commodities such as cotton and sugar, and plantations in the South desperately needed more slave labor to expand.

New Orleans was a key merchant city where such goods could be bought and sold.

After the Louisiana Purchase, the federal government prohibited importation of African slaves into the Louisiana Territory. Therefore, privateers took ships with human cargo (slaves) and smuggled them into the Mississippi River Valley for the sugar and cotton plantations.

Thousands of slaves on Spanish ships originally destined for Cuba, Jamaica, New Spain, and Mexico were hijacked and diverted to Louisiana through Hancock County (known then as Spanish West Florida) and the Barataria Bay.

After the Louisiana Purchase, American merchants rushed to New Orleans to capitalize on this new world marketplace.

Slaving was a contract business (called asiento) that had been managed by the Spanish, Portuguese, Dutch, French, and finally the English over the entire colonial history of North and South America.

New Orleans became the major slave mart of the old southwest Gulf of Mexico. During the Spanish period of New Orleans history (1763-1803) the importation of African slaves surged.

After 1803, the importation of slaves was illegal. Thus, creole merchants and plantation owners were starved for slave laborers. So it was no surprise that sophisticated smuggling operations evolved in the nearby waterfront regions that would become a massive cut-rate hot goods supply chain that would bribe/influence local custom officials and judges in New Orleans.

Jean and Pierre Lafitte developed a virtual port at Grand Isle, Louisiana, called Barataria to bypass American custom officials. They operated several vessels to conduct piracy.

Other independent contractors (pirates) in the region were encouraged to deposit and sell their goods and slaves to the Lafittes who also, therefore, served as middlemen.

The pirates in the Pearl River region likely unloaded cargo some of the time in Barataria. Thereby pirates could ignore revenue laws, restrictive tariffs, and other impediments to free trade.

A pirate schooner might require a crew of fifty sailors. About five hundred men worked at Barataria to load, unload, and transport cargo north through the inland waterways and bayous. It was not unusual for Grand Isle to be visited on any given day by a hundred buyers looking for slaves or specific cargo.

An African slave might cost two hundred dollars at Barataria but seven hundred dollars in New Orleans. American custom agents/inspectors were located in New Orleans and at La Balize (Pilotsville) at the mouth of the Mississippi River.

Slaves and cargo were transported from Barataria up Bayou Lafourche to Donaldson on the Mississippi River. From there, the illicit cargo would proceed north to the plantations or be smuggled south into New Orleans in the middle of the night.

Pierre Lafitte owned a warehouse on Chartres Street in the French Quarter for wholesale distribution or sale of these goods.

In the Pearl River region of Hancock County, an infamous pirate known as Pierre Remeaux, whose real name was McCullough, built a piracy/ smuggling operation similar to but smaller than the one the Lafitte brothers had in Barataria.

Remeaux gathered a pirate crew and outlaw band known as the “Chats-Huants” (Screech Owls) and developed a lair or Robber’s Roost on Honey Island, a forgotten swamp-land in the middle of the Pearl River. He used the Pearl River town of Gainesville as his headquarters. Furthermore Rемаux was well educated and lived part time in a fine house in New Orleans under the pseudonym of Colonel Loring.

He maintained fast ships for piracy and was known as the King of Honey Island. These pirates kept warehouses along the Pearl River to store their booty.

After the United States annexed the Mississippi Gulf Coast, Remaux continued to operate in the Pearl River area relatively undisturbed by the US Navy until 1814. However in November 1814, General Andrew Jackson and his army on their march from Mobile to New Orleans commandeered all sailing vessels around Pearlinton to transport a portion of the soldiers and heavy equipment and artillery to New Orleans to prepare for the expected battle with the British.

Many of these boats belonged to Remaux’s pirates. Accordingly, Remaux joined forces with Jackson. Nonetheless just before hostilities commenced in Chalmette, Remaux and his men crossed over to the British side of the conflict. In the ensuing battle, Remaux and most of his men were killed.

One of the most beautiful waterfront mansions in Waveland was destroyed by Hurricane Camille in 1969. Historian Russell Guerin has researched the property, known as the Pirate House thoroughly and reports that the building was a perfect example of the Louisiana planter type thought to have been built in 1803.

Charles Gayarre writes in his History of Louisiana that “Negroes were daily smuggled into the territory through the Spanish possessions by way of lakes Borgne, Pontchartrain, and Maurepas.”

Guerin has discovered documentation in Colonial Spanish records indicating ownership of the Pirate House by Louis Boisdore and Antoine Peytavin, who were related by marriage. Peytavin was a resident merchant of New Orleans whose family were planters in south Louisiana around Convent in St. James Parish.

In addition Peytavin bought and sold slaves both legally and illegally. Louisiana records show that he had 218 known legal transactions in slaves. The Pirate House was a site of dealing slaves in 1806-1807 and was eventually seized by Spanish authorities for slave trafficking in 1807. According to local legend, Laurel Wood Plantation located on Mulatto Bayou was also employed to transfer illegal slaves acquired from large ocean going pirate ships to be smuggled into the Louisiana territory in smaller sailboats such as sloops.

In conclusion, the difference between a pirate, a privateer, and a patriot may merely be the flag the ship was flying at one particular time or place.

In 1815 Jean Lafitte joined forces with General Andrew Jackson in the Battle of New Orleans. Immediately after the battle, he was pardoned for any previous crimes of piracy and declared a patriot hero.

Years later, historians in the antebellum south continued to consider Lafitte and the many other pirates or privateers like him more patriot than pirate.

Smugglers in 1832 had transferred over five thousand African slaves a year to southern plantations. Southern authors believed pirates rendered a vital service to planter economy. In that mind frame, pirates and privateers were held in great respect rather than defamed.

Pierre Remaux might have been recorded by historians as a hero had he not betrayed Jackson and defected to the British.

The Pirate House is remembered as a beautiful waterfront mansion, but in 1807 it was a metaphor for pirate smuggling which was principally African slave trafficking.

MARY KRISTINE ROSE
JOSEPH ANDREW SEYMOUR
LAWRENCE SANDY WILLIAMS, JR.

MARY KRISTINE ROSE
Mary Kristine Rose was born to Thomas and Kristine Kiley on September 2, 1971 in Brookfield, Wisconsin. She Graduated from East Troy High School in 1989, and went on to attend Carroll College in Waukesha, WI.

Mary served the Town of Brookfield, WI. as a firefighter/HEO/paramedic and later as an ambulance driver/paramedic and 911 dispatcher for AMR, both in Wisconsin, and later, Tampa, Florida where she also worked as an ER Patient Support Tech in the Emergency Room at St. Joseph Hospital. In all she dedicated over fifteen years of her life to the service of her community. She eventually left the medical profession, and became a Plant Administrator in the plastics manufacturing industry. In 2013 Mary moved to the Bay Saint Louis area with her husband Denver, and Daughter Kaylee.

After a decade long battle with multiple sclerosis, Mary was diagnosed with end stage liver failure and succumbed to her illness on Thursday October, 31, 2019, at the age of 48.

She is survived by her parents, Thomas and Kristine Kiley, her husband Denver Rose, and her three daughters, Brittany Akatz-Varvarines, Kimarie King, and Kaylee Briels. The world is a lesser place without her. She will be missed.

JOSEPH ANDREW SEYMOUR
It is with true sorrow and pain that we announce that Joseph Andrew Seymour (Mojo) (Joe Joe) (Joeifish), our most beloved son, brother, grandson, nephew, cousin, and friend passed suddenly on Wednesday October 30, 2019 at the age of 22.

Those who were lucky enough to know Joe, lost a shining light of love and laughter in their life. Joe was the kindest person and a friend to everyone. Joe was born in St. Paul, Minnesota where he lived with his mother and two older sisters.

Joe loved to spend as much time as he could with his Mimi and Papa, who he had wrapped around his little finger from a very early age. He was his mother's joy, his Mimi's helper, and his Papa's pal.

Joe also loved visiting Mississippi with his mother. He especially loved visiting his best friend Sam Seymour. When his mother announced that she was going to marry Mr. Sam, Joe thought it was extremely weird that his mother was going to marry his best friend. But being the kind and generous soul that he is, Joe allowed it.

Joe was thrilled to move to Mississippi and live as family with his two sisters, mom, and new dad/best friend. There were some mixed emotions when Joeifish learned that there was going to be a new baby and that he wouldn't be the baby anymore.

He slowly came around to the idea as long as the baby would be a boy, to even out the numbers. The baby was a girl, baby sister Kaila Grace. Despite Kaila's flaw of being a girl, Joe loved his baby sister and secretly liked being the only brother in a group of adoring sisters. Joe was the calm eye in a hurricane of lively, emotional sisters.

Joe was Kaila's hero, Taylor's partner in crime and Margaret's first baby doll. He grew up in a family that loved him fiercely and supported him without condition.

As a result Joe became a man who also loved unconditionally. Joe was always a hilarious prankster, whose antics kept his family laughing. His propensity towards mischief combined with his genius IQ resulted in the infamous outbreak of "Squads" in 2011 and a couple of stunts in alternative school. Joe loved to make people laugh, because he loved to see people happy. Joe planned to finish his degree in Engineering while he worked at Bacchus on the Beach and the Buttercup. He loved spending time with his friends, especially his best friends- TK, Sam, and Papa. Joe recognized his potential and knew that he was loved. Joe is survived by family who will miss his world-famous hugs and heart-melting grins every day.

His parents Tina and Sam Seymour; sisters Taylor Gavin, Margaret Seymour and Kaila Seymour; grandparents Bobby and Vicki Cotie; nephews Matthew and Nathan; as well as an army of aunts, uncles, great-aunts, great-uncles, and cousins of every degree will miss him every day and love him dearly.

Visitation will be held Tuesday, November 5, 2019 at Edmond Fahey Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis from 10:00 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. with a prayer service at 12:30 p.m. Interment to follow at Gardens of Memory Cemetery in Bay St. Louis, MS.

Immediately following the burial there will be a Celebration of Joseph's Life at the Buttercup in Bay St. Louis on Second Street. Edmond Fahey Funeral Home is in charge of the arrangements.

LAWRENCE SANDY WILLIAMS, JR.
Lawrence Sandy Williams, Jr., 79, a resident of Bay St. Louis, MS, passed away, October 28, 2019 in Biloxi, MS.

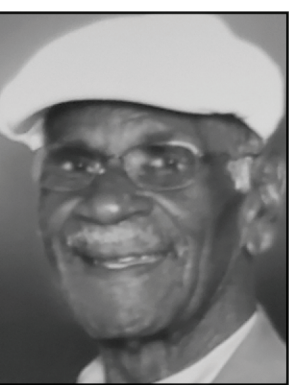

He was born on April 28, 1940 in Bay St. Louis, MS, son of the late Lawrence Sandy and Sarah Lloyd Williams. Lawrence attended Mississippi Vocational College, now known as Mississippi Valley State University, May 28, 1962, where he received a Bachelor of Science degree in Industrial Arts.

Lawrence spent his working career as a school-teacher, employed at the Mississippi Power Company, supervisor at John P. Stennis Space Center, and various other careers. He was drafted in the Army, August 8, 1963, served in Germany during the Vietnam War and Honorably Discharged on July 31, 1969. He also volunteered as a Sunday school teacher at St. Theresa's Catholic Church for several years in the 1980's.

During his later days, he volunteered at the Adult Center in Bay St. Louis, spending time with others and mastering his talents in creating ceramic figurines.

Lawrence was preceded in death by his parents Lawrence Sandy and Sarah Lloyd Williams; two sons, Joseph Carl McMillon and Nathaniel Joseph Williams.

Lawrence is survived by one sister: Edwina

Williams of Alabama; two brothers: Cleveland Williams (Rose) and Thaddeus Williams, both of Bay St. Louis; one daughter, Jennifer Williams of Evans, GA; two grandsons: Nathaniel Williams, Jr of West Point, MS and Devon Robertson; four granddaughters: Brittany Brown of Baltimore, MD, Nche' Williams of Columbus, GA; Natalie Wilson of Greenville, SC; and Maya Anderson of Evans, GA; and a host of nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

Funeral services for Lawrence Sandy Williams Jr. will be held Friday, November 1, 2019 at the Biloxi Veteran Affairs Cemetery at 9:00 am.

Event to honor Tommy Longo

SEA COAST ECHO

To honor the efforts of the late Mayor Tommy Longo to rebuild Waveland after Hurricane Katrina, several Live Oak trees, planters and two 10 x 10 ft. pergolas will be constructed near the Ground Zero Museum in Waveland MS on Thursday, November 7, 2019.

"Mayor Longo's devotion to rebuilding the Waveland-Bay St Louis area after Hurricane Katrina was unforgettable. He inspired confidence in recovery efforts and understood the importance of building community spirit to help get things done" said Barbara Roueche, Troy-Bilt brand manager. "We were honored to work with the Mayor on several projects between 2007-2010 and to be involved today with this beautification project".

An additional pergola will be constructed at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St Louis and the 4th grade students at Holy Trinity Catholic School will receive seed packets and educational materials related to the importance of environmental stewardship.

Several raised bed gardens will also be established at the Ground Zero Museum site for neighbors or local organizations who wish to grow their own fresh vegetables or plant flowers. People wishing to do so, should bring their own gardening tools.

The public is invited to sign up for volunteer activities at www.planetinaction.org or to join the ribbon cutting ceremony with color guard beginning at 8:00 AM on Thursday November 7, 2019. Address: Ground Zero Museum, 335 Coleman Ave, Waveland MS 39576. Near the Waveland Library and City Hall.

Volunteer efforts are being coordinated by Planet in Action and include the Gulfport Navy Seabees, the Gulfport Home Depot, local Knights of Columbus, city officials, friends and family of Mayor Longo. Other local sponsors include the Silver Slipper Casino and Hotel, Waste Pro and Chiquita Fresh North America LLC.

Launched in 2014, Planet In Action™ is a unique and collaborative nonprofit umbrella organization that addresses the community improvement needs of today, and the environmental issues of tomorrow in over 1000 communities in the U.S. alone. As a "highly experienced start-up", Planet In Action's program has been designed to complement and support the ongoing work of community improvement organizations and other service organizations, both in the U.S. and other selected international locations.

Pirates beat Rocks on last-second field goal

BY HUNTER DAWKINS
THE GAZEBO GAZETTE

Just as most people expected, the last regular season game between cross-town rivals Pass Christian and St. Stanislaus came down to possessions. With the final control in their hands, the Pass Christian Pirates chipped in a 25-yard field goal from sophomore kicker Davon Klein and no time left for a 38-35 victory over the Rock-a-Chaws.

The Pirates (7-3, 3-1) secured the second seed in District 8-4A, and Pass Christian will host its third overall playoff matchup in school history and first winning season in over a decade.

"It was a back-and-forth game, just like we knew it would be," said Pass Christian High School Head Football Coach Blake Pennock. "Our intensity in practice since the start of the year helped us be prepared for situations like this."

In the beginning of the game, situations worked in the favor for both teams, as St. Stanislaus drove down the field on an eleven play drive before Pirates defensive back Xavian Page made an interception inside the Rockachaws red zone.

After the Pirates could not convert any offensive series, St. Stanislaus quarterback Max Favre threw a 10-yard touchdown pass to Rockachaws Tight End Lee Negrotto. SSC kicker Gene Hoffman converted his first of 5 extra points with 3:10 left for an early Rockachaws 7-0 lead.

The Pirates didn't wait long, as Senior Quarterback Dustin "Gunslinger" Allison found Pass Christian receiver Kameron White on a 12-yard touchdown pass after a ten play drive with 15 seconds left in the first. Klein kicked his first extra point through the uprights to tie the score 7-7.

At the start of the next quarter, Pass Christian safety Andrew Moffett intercepted a third down SSC pass and returned it 55 yards for a touchdown. Following Klein's kick with 11:02 left in the half, the new lead was 14-7 Pass Christian.

Next drive, Favre found SSC tight end Negrotto for a second touchdown from 25 yards out. With Hoffman converting the point after, the score was tied 14-14.

Possessions were squirmy for both teams, as Pass fumbled twice and St. Stanislaus had a blocked field goal. Eventually, SSC got the ball and drove three plays where Favre found Rock-a-chaws receiver Bradley Darby for a 15-yard touchdown reception with 1:40 left in the half. The extra point gave the Rockachaws a 21-14 lead.

In an unconventional situation, the Pirates punted back to the Rocks where the St. Stanislaus offense fumbled after two plays in the red zone. Once Pass Christian gained control, the Pirates scored on a three-yard run from running back Gordon Ward with 19 seconds left. Following the point-after attempt, the score was tied at the half, 21-21.

The second half was no less a battle between the teams.

Pass Christian scored on the first possession with Allison running in a one yard sneak, followed by SSC running back Jaxson Favre scoring on a 2 yard dive a few possessions later.

Before the last-second field goal solidified the game, the Pirates' running back Huu Nguyen ran in a two-yard touchdown followed by an SSC thirteen play drive ending in a nine-yard sweep by the Rocks' Negrotto.

"The game was a good one between both teams," said St. Stanislaus Head Football Coach Nate Encrapera. "I thought turnovers during certain times of the game is what cost us."

St. Stanislaus (6-4, 2-2) ended its regular season Friday, but will play on the road next week in the first round of the MHSAA playoffs as the #3 seed from the district.

Next week, Pass Christian will host Purvis and St. Stanislaus will travel to Poplarville. Both games are scheduled to kick off at 7 p.m.

Tigers fight but come up short in season finale against Vancleave

BY MAURICE SINGLETON
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

Bay High rallied to overcome being down by two touchdowns in the first half, but the Tigers' offense didn't touch the ball in the fourth quarter in their 37-21 loss at Vancleave on Friday.

The loss eliminated the Tigers (5-4, 0-4) from the playoffs. Vancleave (5-5, 2-2) will travel for a play-off game next Friday.

The Tigers trailed the Bulldogs 21-7 in the second quarter and then put together two scores to tie the game at 21-21 in the third quarter, and the Tigers appeared to have some hope.

"We got down in the first half, but we fought back, made it 21-14 at half and tied it on the opening possession of the second half," said Tigers coach Eric Collins.

But a punt snap mistake proved costly to the Tigers, which resulted in a safety and a 23-21 lead for Vancleave late in the third quarter.

"That really hurt us," said Collins. "The momentum turned in their favor, and I don't think our offense got the ball after that."

"Although the season didn't end like we would have liked, we finished the season 5-4 and we had a winning record," said Collins. "That's something we can build on. I felt like we laid some groundwork for the future. Obviously we've got to continue to get better, building good attitudes and teaching character."

"I feel like the first year is a success," added Collins. "I would have liked to have made the playoffs. It didn't happen, but 5-4, I will take it."

Noah Cutter scored the Tigers' first touchdown on a 15-yard carry. Carson

Moran connected with Zack West on a 2-yard pass for the Tigers second score. Sam Shepherd closed out the Tigers' scoring on a 4-yard carry, which resulted in a 21-21 tie.

Indians ambush Hawks 28-7

BY DWAYNE BREMER
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

The Biloxi Indians on Friday ambushed the Hancock Hawks with 21 unanswered points in the first quarter, and never looked back, as they defeated the Hawks 28-7 Friday on Senior Night in the Kiln.

The Hawks (3-7) opened the game with an on-sides attempt.

Hancock recovered the ball, but it did not travel 10 yards, so the Indians took over at the 47.

Biloxi then drove six plays before quarterback Chad O'Neil scored on a one-yard run. The point-after made the score 7-0.

After a three-and-out by the Hawks, Biloxi drove 71 yards on just two plays for the second score.

O'Neil did the scoring honors once again with a 61-yard scoring run.

O'Neil connected with Smith again for a 10-yard touchdown to cap the drive.

The Hawks then put together a nice drive which reached the Indians 30, but they were stopped on fourth down.

On the drive, senior running back Sebastian Fausett eclipsed the 1,000-rushing-yard mark on the season.

Fausett ended the game with 139 yards on 26 carries.

Six plays later, Biloxi tallied their third score of the first quarter when O'Neil connected with Jervin Smith on a 10-yard touchdown pass.

The Hawks took over at the 20 after the kickoff and embarked on their best drive of the evening.

Jordan Foushee started things off with a 16-yard run. Fausett then picked up two more first downs. Quarterback Sema'J Robertson connected with Tyler Ahlers on a 14-yard pass to get the Hawks into the red zone, and four plays later, Fausett capped the drive with a one-yard run.

Austin Hyde added the point-after to cut the Indians lead to 21-7.

The Hawks defense held the Indians off the scoreboard on their next drive, in part, because of a sack by Cameron Gainer and D'Kari Smith.

The Hawks received the ball to start the second half and looked to get back into the game as they drove into Indian territory.

Once again, however, the Hawks turned the ball over on downs, this time at the 39.

One their second play of the drive, O'Neil took off on a 50-yard run to the Hawks' nine. Four plays later, O'Neil scored on a fourth-and-goal play at the one.

The point-after made the score 28-7.

Hancock's next two drives both reached Indian territory, but Biloxi was able to stop the Hawks on downs both times.

Late in the fourth quarter, the Hawks got one final chance to dent the scoreboard when Cameron Gainer caused a fumble that Nathaniel Greenroad recovered at the Hawk 10.

The Hawks' however, were unable to score, and the game ended with a 28-7 final.

The Hawks will finish their season next week when they travel to West Harrison.

OLA finishes 3rd at state swim meet

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

This past weekend the Mississippi High School Activities Association held the state swimming championships at the Tupelo Aquatic Center.

The Our Lady Academy Crescents nearly came away with the Class I state title after placing third overall with 88 points slightly behind champion Saint Andrew's Episcopal School with 93 points and runner-up St. Joseph Catholic School in Madison with 89 points.

Pass Christian placed 13th overall in the girls standings with two points. In the boys division, Pass Christian tallied 24 points to finish seventh overall followed by St. Stanislaus with 10 points in eighth place. Saint Andrew's Episcopal School also won the boys division with 136 points.

OLA was led by Rylie Moore who won the 100-yard freestyle in 56.88 and was second in the 200-yard freestyle with a time of 2:04.74.

Audrey Chang earned a bronze medal in both the 200-yard individual medley and 100-yard backstroke with times of 2:25.78 and 1:06.21, respectively.

Grace Bradford took third in the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:17.85 while Ella Taylor was third in the 50-yard freestyle with a time of 26.91. Taylor also finished fifth in the 500-yard freestyle in 5:59.36.

Caroline Maillho placed fourth in the 100-yard backstroke in 1:08.99 and eighth in the 100-yard butterfly in 1:14.62.

Alyssa Talbot finished fifth in the 100-yard butterfly in 1:11.39 and eighth in the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:24.07.

Claire Escher was fifth in the 50-yard freestyle in 28.29 and eighth in the 100-yard freestyle.

The Crescents' 200-yard freestyle and 400-yard freestyle relays both placed second overall with times of 1:49.79 and 4:02:00, respectively. The Lady Pirates were led by their 200-yard freestyle relay team with an eighth place finish in 2:08.02.

The Pass Christian Pirates were paced by Haden Cuevas who placed runner-up in both the 100-yard butterfly and the 100-- yard backstroke with times of 53.20 and 55.02, respectively.

The Pirates' 200-yard freestyle relay placed sixth in 2:03.55 while the 400-yard freestyle relay team was seventh in 4:11.79.

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws were paced by Bradley Shaw who finished fifth overall in the 200-yard individual medley in 2:26.03 and eighth in the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:14.69.

Mark Ray placed sixth in the 500-yard freestyle in 6:07.09.

So Many Democrat "P's" – WHY ?

A recent political ad here showed that grades issued by the National Rifle Association to six statewide and local Democrat candidates in next Tuesday's election consisted of one F (Dupree), one C minus (Collins), and four "P's" (Hood, Collins, Cole, MacDonald).

? Refused to answer the NRA-PVF candidate questionnaire or a candidate who has made contradictory statements or taken positions that are inconsistent with the candidate's answers to the NRA-PVF candidate questionnaire or previous record. A rating of "P" often indicates indifference, if not outright hostility, to gun owners' and sportsmen's rights.

Source: <https://www.nrapvf.org/grades/Mississippi/>

Refused to answer...? All the Republicans received "A" grades based on either their voting records and/or their questionnaire statements. You know where those Republicans stand. What are the others hiding...or whose advice, suggestions or instructions are they following?

Anti-gun rights groups receive hundreds of millions of dollars from billionaires like Michael Bloomberg. They are supported by distortions and outright lies from the mainstream media as well as the national (and many other) Democrats.

Even with such strategies they have been utterly unable to win in the realm of ideas and honest debates (including the US Supreme Court) – in large part because of the facts, the truth presented by the NRA in the name of its six million members and the US Constitution. So the strategy has shifted to attacking the NRA as an organization, avoiding all debate of 2nd Amendment issues. Elected Democrats in San Francisco have officially named the NRA a "domestic terrorist organization." NY Gov. Cuomo has officially notified financial institutions in his state that doing business with NRA will lead to "increased attention" – harassment - from the state's public agencies. His spokesmen have said, "There are no ethics when dealing with NRA!" In a related court case, even the ACLU sided with NRA. Egotistical billionaires like Mr. Bloomberg become extremely frustrated to discover their money doesn't automatically bestow upon them absolute control.

If these powerful groups and clever individuals can destroy the NRA, the field is completely open to them. Yes, there are other groups that support gun owner rights but all together they don't have the influence or the prestige of NRA.

Returning to the MS candidate gun grades, especially the "Refused to answer..." it's easy to imagine Democrat power brokers advising, suggesting, or instructing the party's candidate to ignore the NRA questions, to deny any legitimacy to NRA (or its six million American citizen members) - regardless of that candidate's position on the issues. Don't let the voters know what you're thinking! Just get elected!

Ghostbusters, Witches, and Goblins

BY MARY CRAIG MURRAY

The Diamondhead Boaters Association held a scary and ghoulish Halloween Party at the Diamondhead Country Club. The event planners, headed by Hank and Joanne Fried, came as the Ghostbusters—and, they also won the first prize for group costumes.

The Ghostbuster team was comprised of Hank and Joanne, as well as JJ and Doug Skinner, Al and Sylvia Corban, and Eddie and Therese Mauterer. Ghosts, witches and spiders decorated all over the ballroom. The costumes were judged by the Three Blind Mice — Country Club staff in appropriate attire. Perhaps because they were “blind”, they had a difficult time in choosing the winners in each category! The current Boater’s 2019 Court with King Joe Murray and Queen Mary, Carol and Paul Wyrosdick, Linda and Harold Dawley and Cheryl and Phil Ramseyer were straight off a Pirate Ship!

More worrisome was the grand entrance of the 2020 Incoming Court, headed by King and Queen-elect Ken and Janie Dropco, Gary and Jan Wiley, and Noni and Bill Buchanan. In their hospital patient gowns, they arrived via wheelchair and canes, covered in bandages. Jan Wiley was the nurse in charge with her long flowing red hair — a delight to her male patients!! Susan Hightower won the prize for best female costume — definitely over the top! Dick Brown won for best male as the “top cat” in the room. Many more prizes and creative costumes were throughout the ballroom. As always, the Country Club dinner was delicious and enjoyed by all. Witches, cats and ghostbusters danced to the music of Rick Mocklin Southern Voice Duo. In Diamondhead, there is always a party and the groups are fun and welcoming! The next Boaters event will be the Coronation Ball on January 4, 2020.

Aaron Feazelle Named to Allstate AFCA Good Works Team

SEA COAST ECHO

Mississippi College senior Aaron Feazelle has been selected by Allstate and the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) to the 2019 Allstate AFCA Good Works Team, it was announced on Thursday (September 12).

Feazelle (Diamondhead, Miss.) was one of just 22 student-athletes and one honorary coach that were narrowed down from a list of 137 nominees by an esteemed panel of judges, including Kirk Herbstreit (ESPN) and Tim Tebow (Florida, 2009 team). The group stood out for their leadership in local communities and overall commitment to giving back.

Feazelle is the first student-athlete from Mississippi College named to the Good Works Team and the first from the Gulf South Conference since 2000. No current team in the league has ever had a player named to the team. Of the 22 student-athletes chosen each year, 11 come from Division I-FBS schools, while the other 11 come from Division I-FCS, Division II, Division III and NAIA.

"Because being a student-athlete is about more than their performance on the field, we're honored to share the stories of these deserving young men who embody the 'good' in college athletics," said John O'Donnell, president of Allstate's Western Territory. "At Allstate, we are inspired by their positive impact and we unite in this passion to serve local communities."

Aaron Feazelle

The team acts of service range from the founding of an organization that serves the homeless, to raising research funds for the rare disease community. Nearly all are involved in local youth mentorship initiatives, and the team has collectively volunteered thousands of hours to better the lives of those in their communities.

"I've had the privilege of not only being a member of the Allstate AFCA Good Works Team, but also witnessing firsthand how these young men are able to inspire and ultimately change the lives of those around them," said Tim Tebow, two-time national champion and former Allstate AFCA Good Works Team member. "Each year, I'm impressed by the way that Allstate and the AFCA share the important stories of these players' 'good works,' and I'm honored to be part of such a special program that has become a source of inspiration in the college football community."

Feazelle was the only student-athlete to make the nominee list from the Gulf South Conference and joined former Choctaw Seth McDonald (2015) as the only Choctaws to be nominated since the return to Division II in 2014-15.

The former signal-caller made the move to wide receiver in the preseason and is coming into his fourth year in the program. He has posted a 3.42 grade-point-average in Business Administration, twice being named to the GSC Academic Honor Roll.

The former Hancock HS standout also ran a successful campaign to become the Student Government Association President at Mississippi College for the 2019-20 academic year.

On the field, Feazelle has compiled 705 total yards of offense with eight touchdowns, including rushing for 262 yards and five touchdowns on the ground over two seasons under center.

Off the field, Aaron has also participated in many service activities in the community while serving as the SGA Chief of Staff in his junior year, including shopping for families in need for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes Christmas Party, traveling to Panama City to help clean up the town after Hurricane Michael, putting together bags of food for less fortunate families in the Clinton community and going to Batson Children's Hospital in Jackson with the MC Football Team.

Along with those other service projects, as SGA President, Aaron has initiated a program at Mississippi College to partner with the Big Brothers and Big Sisters program in Mississippi, becoming the first time in MC history that they have undertaken that opportunity.

Quesadillas are Mexico's answer to the sandwich

Quesadillas are a common dish found on many Mexican menus. They are warm, cheesy, and delicious. As an added bonus, most are quick and easy to prepare.

Before I go any further, I want to advise you that this column will be short of rhetoric. I did not have many trick or treaters tonight, which has caused me to overdose on Milk Duds, Hershey Bars, and Reese's Peanut Butter Cups.

JBT QUESADILLAS

3 tablespoons softened butter
10 (8 inch) flour tortillas
1-pound Pepper Jack cheese, shredded Do not use pre-shredded cheese

12 slices bacon, cooked in the oven until crisp and crushed

One third cup salsa
4 pickled jalapeno peppers, finely chopped
Preheat the oven to 400 degrees. Spread the butter on one side of the tortillas. Place half of the tortillas, buttered side up, on an ungreased baking sheet. Combine the remaining ingredients, evenly spread the mixture on the tortillas on the baking sheet. Top with the remaining tortillas, butter side up. Bake for 5 to 7 minutes, or until the cheese melts. Remove from oven, cut in half or fourths and serve immediately.

EASY CHEESY QUESADILLAS

2 small cans chopped

green chilies
1-pound Cheddar Jack cheese, shredded
10 (8 inch) flour tortillas

One fourth cup salad oil
Combine chilies and shredded cheese. Spread cheese mixture on half of each tortilla and fold in half. Place the oil in a large skillet over medium heat. When oil is hot, carefully place the folded tortillas in the pan. Cook about one or two minutes on each side or until cheese melts. Serve at once. The Quesadillas can also be cooked in the oven. Be sure to brush the tortillas with melted butter or oil before baking. Cut into fourths. Serve with sour cream, salsa, or guacamole if desired.
Makes 5

SWEET QUESADILLAS
3 Fuji or Gala apples, peeled, cored, and thinly sliced

1 teaspoon lemon juice
One half cup dried cranberries
1 tablespoon sugar
One half teaspoon cinnamon
8 tablespoons butter, softened and divided
10 (8 inch) flour tortillas
1 (8-ounce) package cream cheese, softened
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
One third cup powdered sugar
One half cup caramel topping
One half cup chopped, toasted pecans Place apples in a medium bowl, sprinkle with lemon juice, and stir in cranberries. Combine sugar and cinnamon and fold into apple mixture to coat.

Place a large non-stick skillet over medium heat, add one tablespoon butter, and stir in apple mixture. Sauté for about five minutes or until apples are tender. Remove from skillet and set aside. Wipe the skillet clean.

Evenly spread the remaining butter on one side of each tortilla.

Beat together the cream cheese, vanilla, and powdered sugar until smooth. Spread the cream cheese mixture on the unbuttered side of the tortillas. Place the apple mixture on half of each tortilla, fold in half. Place the folded tortillas in the skillet set over medium heat. This will have to be done in several batches depending on the size of the skillet. Cook for about two minutes on each side until golden brown, turning carefully. Remove from skillet, top with caramel sauce and chopped pecans. The completed quesadillas can be kept warm in a 200-degree oven while preparing the remainder. They can also be topped with a scoop of ice cream. Serve warm

NOVEMBER 8

• The public is invited to attend Coffee with the Superintendent Friday, Nov. 8 from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. at the Bay-Waveland School District Central Office, 200 North Second Street, Bay St. Louis. Superintendent Dr. Sandra Reed said a number of items will be discussed, including the Strategic Plan for the school district. "We look forward to sharing information about our plans for the Bay-Waveland School District and to get input from parents and others in the community who are interested in our goals for the future," Reed said.

NOVEMBER 9

• On Saturday, November 9, businesses in Old Town Bay St. Louis will welcome putt-putt golf enthusiast of all ages, and fun-lovers in general, for the 5th Annual Seahorse Open Pirate Tee Party. This mini-golf event is an annual fundraiser for the Mystic Krewe of the Seahorse, a volunteer organization that supports economic development in downtown Bay St. Louis.

The event cost is $10 per adult, $5 per child, ages 10 and under. Golfers should check-in at the corner of Beach Blvd and Court Street to pickup scorecards, rules and putters at 4 p.m. Prizes will be awarded to the top putters in men's, women's and children's divisions. All participants with an eligible scorecard will be entered into a drawing for a gift basket. Hancock Whitney Bank is sponsoring the participants goody bags, which will include discounts from local restaurants and merchants. Fifty percent of the proceeds from the entry fees as well as hole sponsorships will be donated to Brenda's House Family Center. Brenda's House is a local non-profit and has been chosen for a new mission, the first of it's kind and a model for other states to follow. The organization provides a home setting for family time, supervised visits and community-supported meals. Funds raised from this event will be used for renovations to the facility.

• "Glow" bowling for Hancock Resource Center! Join us for the Second Annual Bowling FUNraiser at Park Ten Lanes in Diamondhead! For questions or to book a lane, please contact 228-463-8887. Meet sweet, shy Chrissy. She is slowly learning to trust again. We do not know her backstory, as this young, (maybe 1-2 year old), Siberian Husky mix was picked up as a stray. At first, Chrissie was very timid, anxious and leery of strangers. However, through the tireless work of our staff and volunteers, Chrissie has become outgoing and friendly. She has formed her closest bond with one of our volunteers, and follows her friend everywhere she goes. Chrissy also seems to gain confidence in the presence of other dogs. At our recent adoption event at Pet Smart, beautiful Chrissy blossomed! She loved playing with our youth volunteers, and she walked easily on a leash and harness. She made fast friends with every dog she met, and tried to engage them in play. It was really heartwarming to see this sweet girl come out of her shell. Chrissy is very quiet, and has yet to bark. She would be an awesome family pet, or a loyal companion for a single person, couple, or active retirees. We are unsure yet if she is crate or house trained, but she behaves cooperatively when kenneled. Please come by the shelter at 7175 Texas Flat Rd, Kiln, to meet this beautiful girl. You will fall in love with her. Call 466 4516 for more information, and visit our Facebook page, Hancock County Animal Shelter, MS, to see more pictures of Chrissy, and of the many other wonderful, adoptable furbabies looking for their forever homes.

Can Toxin Affect Dogs Like It Does People?

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: My dog "Percy" loves to jump into the lake nearby for a swim every day, especially on a hot afternoon. But the last time we were at the shore, a neighbor said there was an algae warning and that dogs and people should stay out of the water. Percy has been in that lake all summer and hasn't been affected. Would that algae really do anything to him? — Pet Dad in Texas

DEAR PET DAD: If you doubt your neighbor's warning, check with the city or municipality that manages the lake to see if an algae advisory has been issued. Signs are often posted at boat ramps and swimming areas.

There is at least one type of algae that is particularly harmful to pets. Blue-green algae, also known as cyanobacteria, can build up around the shores of lakes and ponds where water does not flow quickly — especially during the hottest months of summer. It's not always visible, but when large amounts are present it may clump together and appear as a blue-green or "pea-soup"-like scum or foam.

Cyanobacteria can be fatal to dogs because it can cause liver failure, and lifelong health problems if a dog survives the initial exposure. Dogs that ingest the bacteria can show symptoms within a few minutes — vomiting, diarrhea, excessive drooling, breathing difficulties, confusion, seizures or collapse. Immediate treatment by a veterinarian is essential when symptoms appear.

So, if you hear a warning about letting your dog go into a specific lake or pond, whether from a neighbor or an official, take it seriously. Keep Percy out of the water until the all-clear is given.

SOME "QUICK CHANGE" WORD PUZZLES!

In this type of puzzle you are given a word that must be changed into another word in a series of moves. During each move, you must change one letter in the previous word so as to form a new word. In our example, we changed CAPE to HERO in four moves. See if you can change the following five words in four moves.

1. BIRD to HAWK
2. GOAT to BELL
3. PAIN to WELL
4. NOSH to DINE
5. FADE to OUTS

THE STARTING QUARTERBACK was decided by the player who first threw a pass through the practice tire. Who was it?

Answer: Player number 2.

Answers:
1. BIRD, BARD, HARD, HARK, HAWK.
2. GOAT, PAUL, PAUL, BELL.
3. PAIN, PAUL, PAUL, WELL.
4. NOSH, NOSE, NONE, DINE.
5. FADE, FATE, FATS, OATS, OUTS.

DEVOTIONAL PAGE

YOU CHOOSE CONSEQUENCES WHEN YOU CHOOSE ACTIONS

BY GARY ANDREWS
GARY@GADEVOTIONALS.COM

Melchor Lim once said, “Choose to listen to your inner voice, not the jumbled opinions of everyone else. Do what you know in your heart is right for you. It’s your road and yours alone. Others may walk it with you, but no one can walk it for you. And be sure to appreciate every day of your life.”

Life is about actions. Ever since I was a young boy I have always been told that I am responsible for my actions and how I live up to them. If I mess up then I should pay the consequences and take the responsibility. If my actions injure someone physically or emotionally, then I should be held accountable for trying to make things right, especially those that I have hurt.

I remember when I was about eight or nine years old I went to the corner grocery store with a couple of friends. I picked up a five cent tootsie roll, which in those days were like the dollar ones now, and began eating it. As my friends lined up to pay for their candy I slipped by the owner and went out the door without paying. I know the owner saw me and he never said a word to me about paying, however when I got home and told my mother what I had done, she had plenty to say and

I learned a very valuable lesson on honesty. Even though I never intended to steal I adhered to my instincts knowing the small still voice inside of me said what I was doing was wrong.

This is something that I have never forgotten nor forgiven myself for doing. Even though the candy bar was paid for on my very fast return trip, I can never let go of the lesson I learned that day. The owner of the store was the dad of a very close friend of mine and we had been neighbors for several years. He was always good to me and never judged me for my ill-fated deed. This was an embarrassment I brought on myself and even though this is well over 50 years later, the man and his son now live with the Lord; I still can’t believe I did that. I had to face the consequences of my action that day and I still hurt because I did the wrong thing.

Our actions can sometimes hurt relationships, hinder friendships, create ill will among others but a due date is forthcoming. A misplaced verbal action can never be taken back. Once said it is there forever and it doesn’t matter how many times you apologize, you can never get the words back.

Opportunities and time once passed by are gone forever. Many of us are looking for four-leaf clovers for luck instead of standing up and seeing the real possibilities that come our way.

Many of us are paying consequences for our actions concerning the Lord and what He has asked us to do. Sometimes it takes a slap on the head, maybe a troubled situation within your job or family, to make us realize that the Bible is God’s inerrant word and we are to abide by it.

The Lord loves all of His children and will provide and care for them. He has come to us through the Holy Spirit to help guide us in our decisions and actions. He speaks to us through His small still voice. All we need to do is pay attention.

Prayer: Thank you Lord for the life you have given me on this earth. I pray that I will listen to your voice and make all of my decisions on what you tell me to do and not the listen to the world. Amen.

The DWGAN enjoyed a great turn-out for its Pink Hearts Tournament on Oct. 10.

DWGAN Golfing News for October

BY SHIRLEY HALTERMAN

October brought us a bit of rain but still managed to be a rather warm month. And, we are still managing to keep our Summer storms at bay, or should I say out in the Bay.

Since several of our regular members were traveling on our usual Trophy Day, Tuesday, October 1st play was cancelled. Since the weather was quite nice, several gals did play just for practice.

Thursday, October 10th, was our PINK HEARTS TOURNAMENT with gals from both the Nines and the 18-Holers playing to raise funds for breast cancer.

As in the past, this event was well attended and received. It was followed by a lunch and various other fund raising opportunities.

Over $7,000 was raised. (a photo of some of our players is attached to this article.) We continue to be very thankful for the great support for this tournament and look forward to presenting another check to Joanne Nicely next year to support her work with cancer patients and survivors.

On Tuesday, October 14th, the weather held allowing us to play our Even Hole game.

Each gal plays her own game but only scores from Even Numbered Holes are counted for the competition. This year found us playing this event on the back nine holes of the Cardinal Course. That meant that only what you scored on holes #10, #12, #14, #16 & #18 were counted for the competition. Our First Flight winners were: 1st Place — Linda DeParto, 2nd Place — Ann Nutting, and we came up with a tie for 3rd Place with Shirley Halterman and Therese Mauterer posting the same score. In the Second Flight our winners were: 1st Place — Nancy Sislow, 2nd Place — Rachel Stewart, and 3rd Place — Fran Smith. In the Third Flight we again had a tie. This time for 1st Place Beryl Laird and Carol Wyrosdick scored the same with Carol Laux garnering 3rd Place.

During this game, Susie Fontenot had a Chip-In on #12, Renie Dack had one on #18 while Therese Mauterer had a Chip-In Birdie on #13, and Pat VanDervort did the same on #15. Good going gals!

On the 22nd of October, we played a traditional Scramble and following are the winning teams.

The First Place Team composed of Marlene Gossare, Leslie Page, Rachel Stewart and a ghost played the nine holes with a score of 34.

The Second Place Team comprised of Jodi Crosby, Sandy Merdinyan, Pat VanDervort and a ghost scored just one more stroke - 35. While the Third Place Team made up of Pattie Blackwood, Carroll Gothie, Therese Mauterer and Margaret Papaleo were not far behind with a score of 37.

Tuesday, October 29th, was scheduled to be the first nine holes of our 18-Hole Club Championship. However, Mother Nature had other ideas and this round had to be cancelled due to rain.

Look for our article next month to find out who managed to become the 2019 Diamondhead Golf Club Nines Champion. Whoever it is will have to work hard as she will have to accomplish it in just nine holes instead of eighteen.

Meanwhile, we continue to encourage you to join us for fun rounds of golf and great new friendships. Just call the DH Golf Course for details.

Keep hitting them long and straight and putting those putts in with just one stroke on the greens.

Gulf Coast Symphony to present 'Holiday Pops' at Hancock Performing Arts Center

The Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra has announced its annual family friendly holiday tradition - Holiday Peppermint Pops at the Hancock Performing Arts Center in Kiln. Join Santa and the symphony with a fun holiday sing-along, Jwan Jordan, a familiar voice narrating "Twas a Night before Christmas," selections from Frozen, Sleigh Ride and many more. This year, hand-bell soloist Danny Lyons will be joining the Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra and the Youth Orchestra in several holiday family favorites.

Holiday Peppermint Pops will be presented on Sunday, Dec. 1 at 3 p.m. at the Hancock Performing Arts Center of Kiln in Hancock County. Maestro Rubardt has programmed the concert to celebrate the symphony's favorite holiday songs. Danny Lyons, a hand-bell soloist from Pensacola, Florida, will be ringing in the concert along with Guest narrator Jwan Jordan narrating everyone's favorite "Twas a Night before Christmas", Sleigh Ride and other holiday favorites will kick off the holiday season.

Tickets are available online at www.gulfcoast-symphony.net you may also call the office and charge tickets with a Visa, MasterCard or American Express (228-896-4276).

The Box Office will open an hour before the performance begins. Ticket prices start at $25 for general admission and $10 for Students and Military with I.D. this event has general admission seating.

For more information about the Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra's season and to read Program Notes for this first concert, visit gulfcoastsymphony.net or call 228-896-4276.

Mississippi Election Protection Center will be open Nov. 5

The Mississippi Civic Engagement Roundtable, a non-partisan coalition, will open the statewide election protection program to assist voters with the general election on Tuesday, November 5. The Mississippi Election Protection call center is a program designed to educate voters and volunteers about voting rights in Mississippi. The program includes a toll-free number, 1-888-601-VOTE (8683), staffed by legal professionals and community volunteers to field questions and provide legal assistance in resolving any Election Day problems. Last year, the call center received a number of calls related to the purging of voter rolls, precincts running out of ballots and other issues. "Our goal is to make sure that every voter is able to vote. There should be no confusion, intimidation or barriers to the ballot box at precincts in Mississippi," said

Nsombi Lambright-Haynes, Executive Director of One Voice. The Mississippi Civic Engagement Roundtable was established in 2008 by the Mississippi State Conference NAACP and One Voice. It is a membership group, comprised of various local, statewide and national organizations focused on ensuring a fair voting process. For more information, call 601-353-6906 or via email info@uniteonevoice.org.
